Thanks John. I hope this means you've pushed your last button before Christmas and are taking the rest of the week off! Thanks for a great year.

> Based on DEQ's review of NW Natural's November 4, 2011 response and as discussed during the November 2011 meetings, DEQ accepted NW Natural's proposed framework for completing design and construction of the Alluvium WBZ extractions wells with conditions. DEQ did not approve postponing construction of the interceptor trench to sometime after implementation of the in-water sediment project due the significant delays in achieving source control of the Fill WBZ which would result.
